This report is to be submitted to the APRIL Chief Scientist/CEO (j.pluske@april.org.au) no later than 5 pm (AEDT), 28 July, 2023. Late submissions will not be accepted. Applications will be deemed ineligible if referee reports are not received by the due date.

Referee to complete details below

Referees are asked to comment on the Fellowship candidate and proposal using the headings below. The report is to be no longer than 2 pages in length.

Please comment on the following:

1. The capacity in which you know the candidate (e.g., supervisor, colleague, employer, etc.).
2. The quality of the candidate as demonstrated by track record subject to opportunity and career stage. Please comment specifically on the quality of the candidate's publication track record, indicating the calibre of the various journals within the given field.
3. The quality of the project - this will be measured by:
 - (a) The significance of the project: does the project address an important industry problem (or problems) that will advance knowledge and understanding; are the project aims and concepts innovative; will new methodologies or technologies be developed; are there relevant and meaningful industry links; what outcomes are there likely to be for the pork industry?
 - (b) The feasibility of the project; are the conceptual framework, design, methods and analyses appropriate and adequately developed; is the timeframe realistic?
4. If you are familiar with the host institution in which the Fellowship would be hosted, please also comment on the appropriateness of the environment in terms of facilities and personnel.
